Our Stage

Expands

In Appreciation

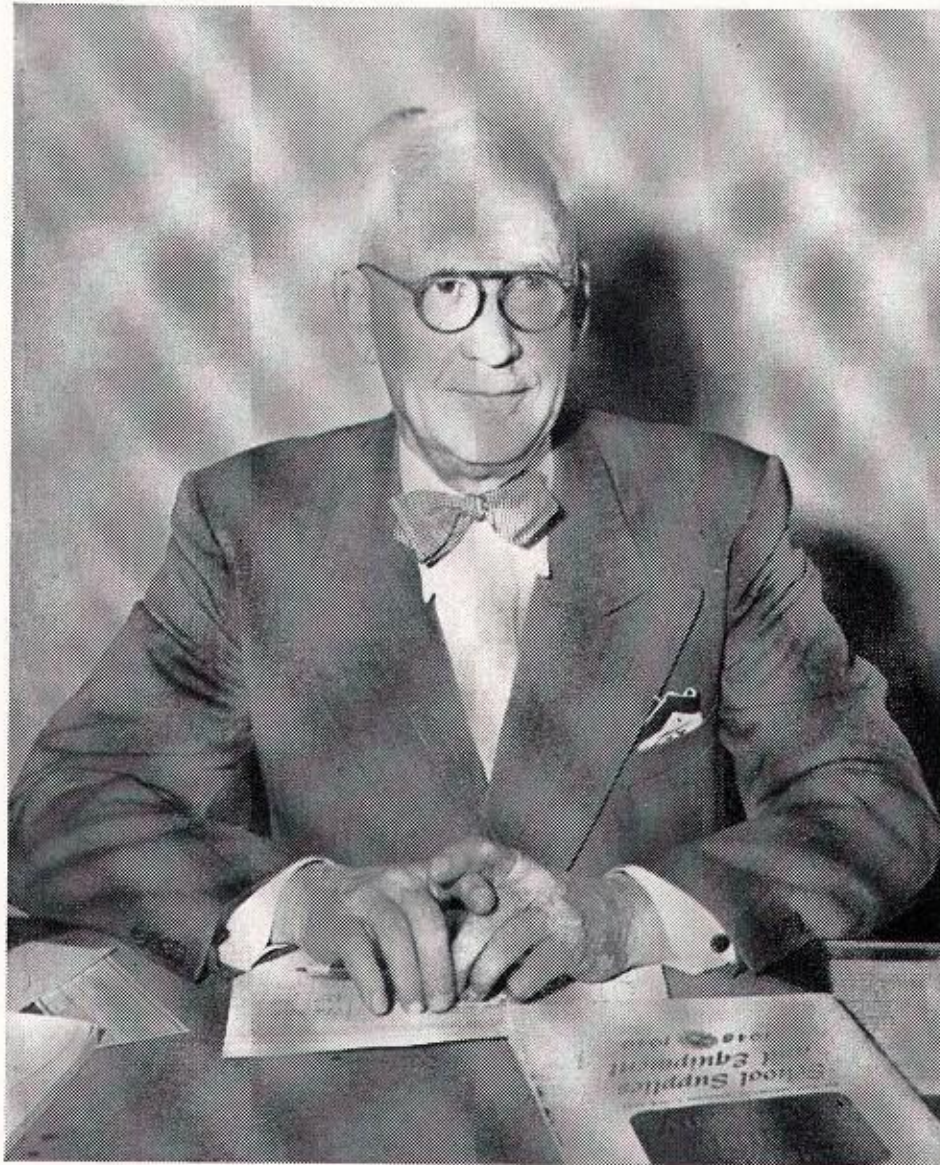

● TO OUR PARENTS who so diligently worked to gain the voters' approval for the erection of a new wing to the high school and an additional building for the grade school, we dedicate this book, the 1950 CROSS-ROADS.

Without their never-ending efforts, Brighton's facilities would have become inadequate, and the high standing Brighton has achieved would be endangered. We thank them also for their success in obtaining a much desired swimming pool.

Yes, thanks to our parents, Brighton will continue on its way to expansion and progress.

Our Stage

William E. Hawley
Superintendent of Schools

Top: Mrs. Frances Chapman, Miss Marguerite Weiner
Bottom: Miss Edith Schultheiss, Mrs. Helen Yawman

● ALTHOUGH busy with plans for the new addition, William E. Hawley, our genial superintendent of schools, always finds time to visit with students and faculty alike. A smooth running organization and high scholastic standards testify to his excellent leadership.

Answering students' queries keeps Miss Marguerite Weiner and main office secretaries busy.

Aiding Mr. Hawley is Miss Edith Schultheiss, while Mrs. Helen Yawman supervises all purchasing and financial disbursements for both schools.

Directors

Arthur E. Harris
High School Principal

Alice L. Foley
Elementary School Principal

Leonard Smith, Vice-principal
Mrs. Ruth Lucy, Richard Savage, Guidance

● THE TALL, genial man seen daily in Brighton's halls and at all school activities is Principal Arthur E. Harris. In his three years with us, he has shown a real interest in each individual student and has promoted many worth-while improvements.

Capably supervising activities of future high school students is Miss Alice L. Foley, principal of the elementary school. Her graciousness and understanding are always long remembered by her students.

"Report to Mr. Smith" means "Meet a welcoming smile" unless . . . ? In Leonard B. Smith's first full year as vice-principal he has "won friends and influenced people."

Helping all students over the rough paths of curriculum-planning and college entrance are Mrs. Ruth Lucy and Richard Savage, guidance directors.

Actors Behind Scenes

• BEYOND the rosy glow of footlights, five Brighton citizens work without glory and applause, without pay and often without thanks for the welfare of all the children of all the people. These public-spirited citizens, the Board of Education, elected by popular vote, have long cherished a vision of an enlarged Brighton with improved facilities for both youngsters and teenagers. Weeks and months of planning brought forth the plans we present in this book, buildings to provide not only adequate education for Brightonites but the best physical facilities in this area.

To say we appreciate their efforts is an understatement. Even though we, as seniors, will not share the use of the new additions, we are glad for our successors in Brighton.

President of the group is A. Ralph Eckberg; vice-president, Charles G. Rittenhouse; clerk, Mrs. Henry Crawford. Warren Hastings and E. Reed Shutt complete the board.

Robert T. Morrow, clerk of the Board, is responsible for all records and financial accounts.

Newly appointed attorney for the district is Rae Clark, former Brighton graduate.

From top: A. Ralph Eckberg, Charles G. Rittenhouse, E. Reed Schutt, Robert T. Morrow, Mrs. Henry B. Crawford, Warren W. Hastings.

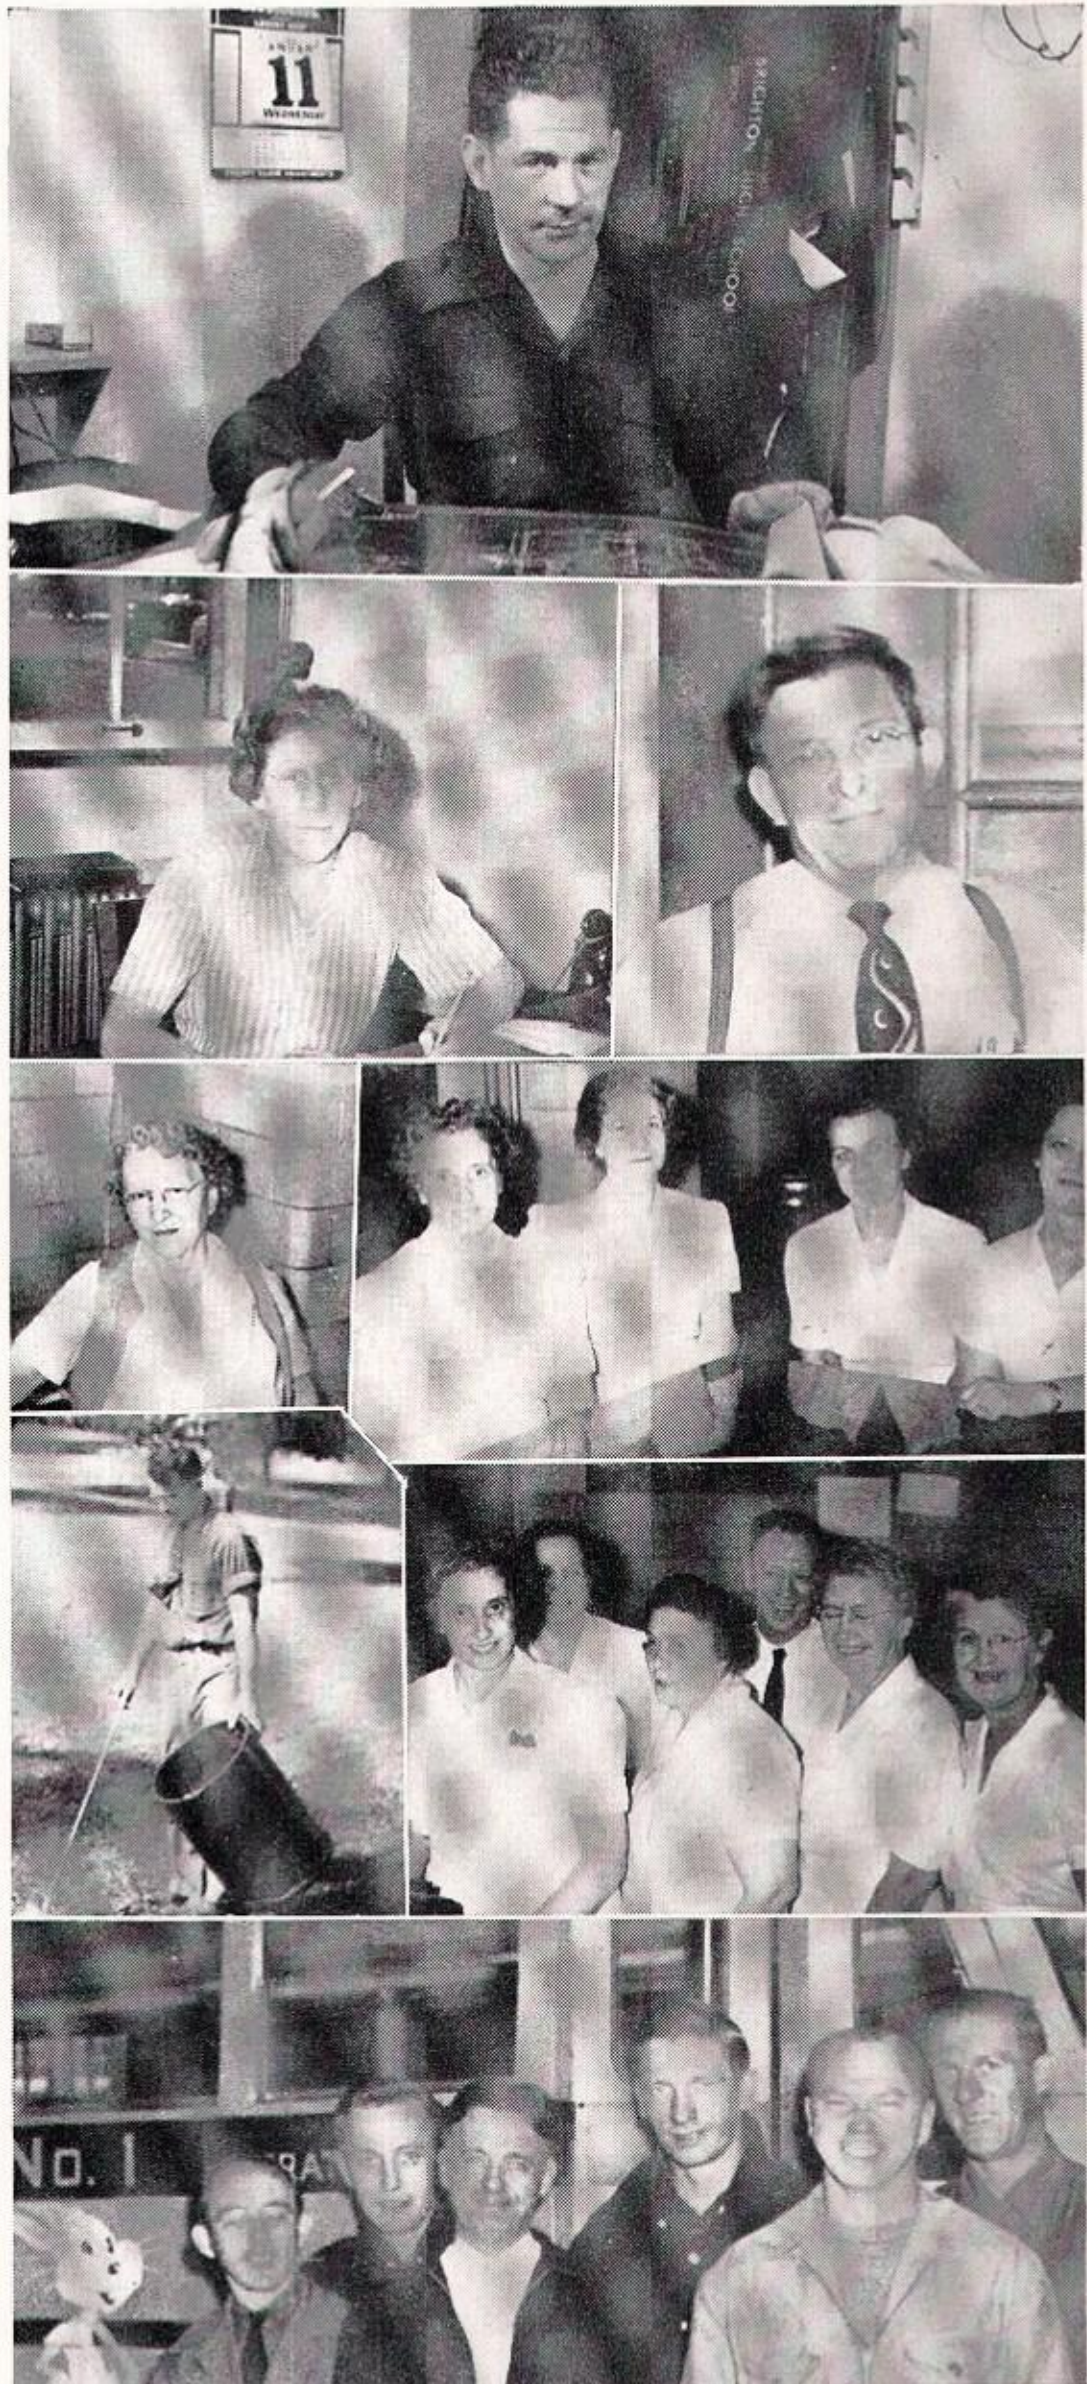

Property Crew

• WARM CLASSROOMS, cool classrooms, clean corridors, varnished desks — all fall into a category called maintenance ably headed by Joseph Slack, head custodian of grade and high school buildings. A bang-up job by the entire maintenance staff makes all people connected with Brighton proud and justly so.

Fragrant odors of delicious food make many a mouth water as pupils rush to the cafeteria for a lunch especially suited and planned for students and teachers by Miss Olive Fay and her capable staff.

Hither and thither, wherever we wish to go, there stands a bus or buses with their friendly drivers ready to take the "kids."

We salute a well-coordinated maintenance staff who make BHS our second home.

Top: Joseph Slack. Upper: Miss Olive Fay, Charles Steffen. Middle: Mrs. Catherine Kaut, Mrs. Mary Weterings, Mrs. Flora Grant, Mrs. Helen Ziegler, Mrs. Alice Brown.

Lower: William Gerber, Mrs. Weterings, Mrs. Anna LaBorie, Mrs. Mary Woodworth, Burt Weterings, Mrs. Frances Miller, Mrs. Clara Pelletier. Bottom: Russell Jock, Paul Merkel, Bart Kiernan, William McCarthy, Harry DeWitt, Al DeHollander.

Understudies Prepared

To Assume Leads

• HAVING BEEN violently affected during the last several months by "spring fever," we decided not to wake ourselves up, and dreamily waltzed into the Junior Prom, May 6.

Looking back over previous months when we were slightly more "on the beam," we burst our buttons with pride as we mounted up $400 for our class treasury by a terrific magazine sale in the fall.

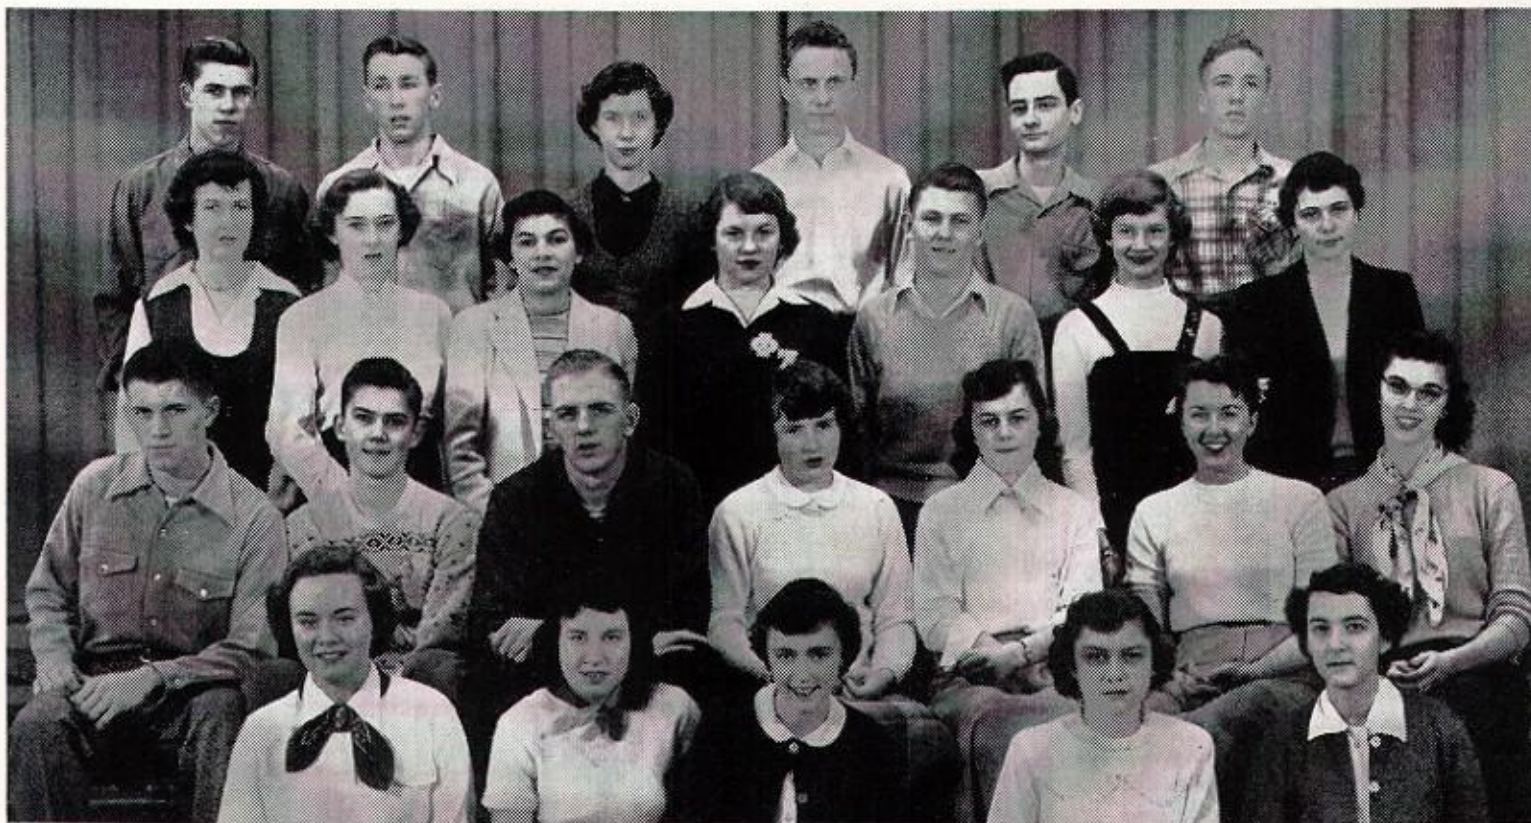

In the world of sports we feel proud to have contributed one member (who incidentally was captain) to the All-county Football Team,— Dave Trost. To the varsity basketball, we again contributed Dave Trost and Bill Wiley.

Our officers aren't quite so goofy as they look in their picture and really did a swell job as our class officers. Jean Edwards and Roger Batty represented us on the Student Council as secretary and treasurer, respectively.

In Every Drama,

• "I'LL EAT MY HAT", Roger Friedlander continued to repeat to Judy Buckert, causing her temperature to soar a few more degrees and adding zest to a delightful comedy produced under the direction of Miss Bette Grant, Dramatic Club leader. Sue Kendall, Marjorie Purser, and Kitty Grant held supporting roles while Marcia Conway, Jean Clarridge, Lois Howk, Jo Anne Boon, Caroleigh Kemp, Bob Long, and Scott Fisher worked diligently behind scenes.

Leading sophomores in their annual problems of keeping things running smoothly were Kayla Achter, president; Phil O'Brien, vice-president; Bob Folwell, secretary; and Dave Ungerer, treasurer.

• STEPPING OUT into that dark, unknown world of high school, we were slightly dazed by the intricacies which presented themselves in finding "interned" here as eighth graders, but for us who came from far-away places, it was completely baffling. That little blue handbook helped us out no end.

• HIDDEN TALENT seemed to lurk in our class as dancer Martha Piper and contralto Phyllis Rochow brought hearty applause in a talent assembly

Managing our affairs were Fred Trost, president; Tim Hanley, vice-president; Philip McNall, secretary; and Rita Feldman, treasurer.

Starlets Await

• UNDER THE leadership of our president, Jim Crawford, our class really came into its own. Humbling the frosh in the fall cross-country meet put a feather in our cap as did the $85 contributed to the Red Cross, making up forty per cent of the entire school's total.

We even added New York State history to our curriculum by forming the Junior Yorkers Club. We made Bob Critchley president; Helen Brown, vice-president; Nancy Calderwood, secretary; and Raymond Farber, treasurer.

With "Bon jour, mademoiselle," we increased our vocabulary and were initiated to a new subject, conversational French

Pint-sized Kreislers comprise the new orchestra which has been progressing with full speed this year under the direction of Philip Kaufman.

Her Drama Grows

With this modern new school facing Monroe Avenue, educational opportunities of the youngest generation are assured.

• YES, IT finally happened! We are getting a new grade school, costing $750,000, and ready for our smallest pupils to move into in September 1951.

The school will contain four kindergartens and eight first grade rooms, a cafeteria, a play den, a meeting room, a library, a nurse's office, and separate rooms for students needing special attention in their subjects.

New modern windows, low in structure, will permit more light. A work unit consisting of a sink, cupboards, stove and refrigerator in the kindergarten are some novel features.

A separate building was needed since the present grade school was overcrowded and not well adapted to needs of younger children.

At present with 1,301 students in the grade school the art, music, and home economics rooms had to be taken over along with the teachers' lunchroom for regular classes. With the new addition and the seventh grade added to the high school, 900 students will be left in the grade school with 400 pupils in the new addition.

Since 1943, when there were 800 students, there has been an increase of about seventy pupils a year.

Girls' Service Club president Naomi Sarachan, Boys' Service Club president Dick DeMallie, and Newsette Editor Tish Savage discuss plans. Safety Patrol officers Bobby Ferguson, Irving Heyman, and George Stothard prepare for duty. Future ballerinas.

• ONE OF the powers behind the new student handbook we all received free of charge last fall was the Student Council who helped to provide funds for our new "bible." Maybe the faculty got tired of answering all our questions and decided to give us necessary information right in our hands in black and white.

No election was ever more spirited than the one in which Jim Durfee won out over his opponents, Dinny Calkins and Sindy Cowan who put on good campaigns.

Remember that giant Christmas tree in the center of the gym floor? . . . and soft lights . . . holiday spirit . . . and Dick Dennison's melodic strains? . . . That was our Christmas dance, one of the best activities of the year.

But we worked! Didn't we do a good job in the clean-up campaign for the cafeteria? Our adviser, Leonard Smith, commended us on the improvement.

The messenger service which the Honor Society worked out with us seems to be a service to harassed faculty who no longer are interrupted by phone calls.

In broadening our outlook, we joined the National Association of Student Councils and sent four delegates to the sectional Student Council conference at York Central School.

Our parting gift to Brighton was a blue and white school flag which we hope will serve to promote devotion to our alma mater.

And Intelligent Actors

Bottom: "Brain Trust" initiates new members.

• "HEAR YE! Hear ye! Come one, come all!" This was the cry of the National Honor Society members when they displayed big rosy apples for sale to football fans, colorfully wrapped potato chips to cheering basketball mobs, and thirst-quenching cokes for baseball rooters. Selling Brighton kerchiefs and sponsoring a baked food sale at a Parent-Faculty meeting all helped swell the fund for a $100 scholarship given annually to a deserving senior.

Presiding over the group were Laurieta Spencer, president, with Dinny Calkins, vice-president; Sally Hall, keeper of the minutes; and Jim Durfee, counter of the shekles. Mrs. Ruth Lucy assisted the club as adviser.

Members are chosen for scholarship, leadership, service, and character. Last spring eight members were added with twelve new ones last fall.

The Scripts

Standing: B. Herrman, Durfee, Hubbard, McChesney, Reed, Leahy, Dietrich. Seated: Bardwell, Nasset, Allen, Carver, Gibbons.

• NEW! IMPROVED! Bigger and better than ever! With "Our Stage Expands" as our theme, we, the CROSSROADS staff of 1950 have expanded the book from eighty to ninety-six pages.

Carolyn Allen, our editor, and Sue Nasset and Noelle Carver, our associate editors, played the guidance roles under the direction of Mrs. Gertrude O'Donnell. Our financial problems were solved by Peter Reed and our artwork and cover were furnished by Ed Rosenberg.

Supporting roles were played by Betty Leahy, our class editor, Nancy McChesney, club editor, and Barbara Herrman, feature editor. Martie Dietrich and Jean Gibbons assisted Betty and Nancy, respectively.

Completing the cast, Jim Durfee portrayed Brighton's championship teams as our Sports Editor; Kent Klineman lent a hand in sports copy. Ann Bardwell and Phyllis Hubbard presented the girls' story of their sports.

Peter Reed, business manager; Carolyn Allen, editor.

• THE "Trapezoid," edited by Noelle Carver with the assistance of her associate editors Carolyn Allen and Nancy McChesney and sports editors Bob Burch and Howie London maintained the All-American rating for the eighth consecutive year and the All-New York rating for the ninth year.

Counting pennies, paying bills, and making the budget balance were in charge of Pete Reed, business manager. Fred May took care of circulation and was in charge of the Christmas "Save-the-Children" campaign when Brighton students contributed to the support of a French school. Ed Rosenberg furnished excellent cartoons for every issue of the year.

Carolyn, Noelle, Pete, Sue and Nancy with Mrs. Gertrude O'Donnell, adviser, attended the Empire State School Press Association conference in Syracuse in the fall.

'There's No Business

• IT MAY be a good long time before any of us sit listening to the rhythmic creak of a rocking chair, and with gray hair and thick-rimmed spectacles, thumb through a 1949-50 CROSSROADS to recall our high school days. However, when we come to the Dramatic Club page, memories of our fun that year will entertain us along with many thoughts and chuckles as we recollect the times we had.

Remember . . . what trouble we had deciding on our new name which finally turned out to be the "Harlequins"? . . . when during the "Ghost Train" the ill-timed explosion of John McAlister's gun popped right in the surprised face of our adviser, Miss Bette Grant? . . . Miss Grant's tearing her hair over someone's being late for rehearsal . . . that terrific dinner at Johnson's on dress rehearsal night?

Besides experiencing these funny but nerve-racking experiences and putting on plays we started a new point system suggested by Miss Grant, enabling each member in the club to have an individual record kept of his achievements and giving him credit for each job he does, large or small. Judging points are the present officers: Sue Nasset, president; Tom Beers, vice-president; Kayla Achter, secretary; Karen Floberg, recording secretary; and Ann Feinbloom, treasurer.

We all waited in suspense to see who would win the coveted gold key for the most credits (followed by silver and bronze for the next highest) and we weren't surprised when Pete Reed snared that honor. Pete, in charge of staging every assembly, not only designed and managed each set and taught next year's stage crew but also took a large part in that thrilling mystery, "The Ghost Train."

Trying to get variety in our programs, we entertained and confused our audience with the melodrama, "Fireman, Save My Child!"

• NEXT CAME our Christmas pageant presented in cooperation with the music department, a little more on the serious side, but filled with its unexpected incidents. Weeks before the assembly, stagehands had faithfully practiced changing properties quietly, but behind the curtain on the fateful morning, the crib fell off the stand with a crash, and caused little bits of hay to appear unexpectedly under the curtain.

Cries of "Ugh, do we have to eat this?" and "This is horrible!" could be heard as sophomores practiced for a light comedy, "I'll Eat My Hat" and suffered through each rehearsal eating cold vanilla pudding topped off with dry shredded wheat.

A special contest in the spring was a real innovation in Brighton. Sophomores, juniors, and seniors presented a different type of one-act play, on the same program.

Climaxing a year of real fun and accomplishment under the capable direction of Miss Bette Grant, we hope to join the "Thespians," the national dramatic fraternity.

Photographers, Designers

• JACK DRAKE, president of Camera Club; Billy Robus, vice-president; Howard Clark, secretary; Russell Chapman, treasurer; and Miss Marian Perrin, adviser, have guided shutterbugs in the art of picture-taking and developing.

BHS photographers journeyed to Eastman House and the Memorial Art Gallery for inspiration in photographic art. Randy Houck, former Brightonite, addressed members on "Composition in Photography."

Dick Larson, Garry Westher, Myron Furman, Jack Drake and Stan Schafer were "employed" by "Trapezoid" and CROSSROADS staffs to take and develop pictures for both publications.

• WE'VE HAD a pre-view in Industrial Arts Club of our shop quarters in the new wing, built in miniature by Dave Ross. This little model shows skill in making and incidentally, furnishes us with inspiration for shop work in 1951-2.

This is only one of many projects undertaken by members as an extra-curricular activity. Walt Westfall created a standard for his clarinet, a cone-shaped affair over which the horn end of the instrument fits, thus making it stand upright ready for use.

John Cox, adviser, founded the club this year to give boys not taking industrial arts an opportunity to use facilities of the shop.

Players' Reference Shelf

• WITH "Make Friends With Books" as our slogan, the Library Club swung into activity this year with one of the most successful book fairs given in years. With the cooperation of faculty members who traveled here and abroad last summer, we had a display in the front showcase on the Western United States and European countries. A wide variety of the latest publications and best sellers were on sale to all in our library. To emphasize our displays, we put up colorful posters throughout the library and corridors.

"Spotlights on Books" an assembly presented by our more dramatic members also marked the observance of Book Week. "Gone With the Wind," "Little Women," "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," and "Seventeenth Summer" and cheerleading were books featured on the program.

At a meeting on careers, Miss Margaret Mary Donegan, a second grade teacher, talked about her interesting experiences teaching small children. A film, "Girls in White," was also shown for those with a bend toward nursing.

Heading activities through the year were Betsy Coleman, president; Carol Rice, vice-president; Barbara Newton, secretary; and Barbara Newbery, treasurer.

Wide Stages for Y-Teens

• FIVE GROUPS of girls, all striving for the same goal of mind, body, and spirit, yet none competing with each other, are the Y-Teens. Each class is organized in a separate group with a parent and a faculty member, advisers.

Sue Nasset heads our seniors; Lois Cohn, juniors; Mary Van Dussen, sophomores; Joan McGuidwin, freshmen; and Marcia O'Keefe, eighth graders.

A fashion show and Mothers' Day tea highlighted senior activities. Juniors gave a farewell tea for senior girls and also sponsored a splash party and Christmas party with senior Y-Teenagers.

Sophomores carried out several service projects and also enjoyed a taffy pull in mid-winter.

Frosh were active with a visit to Eastman House, a snow party, and Christmas caroling. Our youngest set sent packages to destitute families during the year and made tray favors for children at Iola Sanatorium.

• ENTERTAINING polio patients at the Municipal Hospital with our own band was typical of projects performed by our four Hi-Y's.

Having the annual charter or awards banquet as a goal, clubs not only contributed to the betterment of our school but extended their services to the community.

Ushering at the Kiwanis movies, a grade school foul-shooting contest, a Christmas party for residents of the Rochester Friendly Home were among countless projects chalked up this year.

Our social calendar found us caught in a whirl of delight as a result of Hi-Y sponsored affairs. Off to a running start was the Back-to-School Dance, followed by the Alpha Victory Dance honoring our fall champions.

In November the group combined with Monroe and Pittsford clubs for the annual Turkey Trot and again in March to stage the Trophy Dance at which Bob Turner awarded to Monroe's basketball team the trophy which stimulates our great inter-school rivalry.

Athletics rounded out a well-balanced program as was seen in the touch football, basketball, and softball leagues in which Gamma copped the softball trophy, and runner-up honors in the touch football department.

Cyrano's Homeland

• PARLEZ-VOUS francais? We in LeCercle Francais do! At least we like to think so! With a membership of forty-nine almost double that of last year, we've breezed through a variety of activities with Sally Hall, president, and Mrs. Julia Brown, adviser.

Forgetting verbs for a while, we presented a portion of Rostand's tragedy, "Cyrano de Bergerac" in both French and English with Bernie Levinson as Cyrano and Betty Leahy and Nancy Reynolds as Roxanne. Miss Bette Grant assisted us in the dramatization.

At our December party, a native French woman spoke on Christmas in France. We congratulated ourselves on being able to understand almost all of her talk.

One of our biggest "doings" was participation in International Night where we presented an extensive display of French art, craftsmanship, and costumes donated by French students, and supplemented by the Memorial Art Gallery.

Late in May we became gourmets and partook of that delicious French cuisine at our annual French Club banquet.

Topping off the year, all French students contributed to buy "Lady Sewing" by Renior. The painting now hangs in the French room to lend a cultural note.

Spotlight on Spain

• "BUENAS DIAS" and "hola amigo" were keywords which gave Spanish Club members worlds of fun in the friendly-spirited tradition of Spain and Latin America.

Fascinating Spain with all its intrigue and enchantment was the theme of our first meeting. Festive songs and games coupled with a Spanish record session helped us gain a little idea of the Spanish way of life.

A gala banquet December 14 featured a typical Spanish meal with trimmings in the form of a skit, Christmas carols, and colored slides of Mexico City. A dramatic climax was reached when the pinata was broken and everyone scrambled wildly for its sugared contents.

The year's festivities reached their culmination March 21 when Spanish fashions and exhibits contributed their color and zest to International Night.

Fun, work, and a better understanding of Spanish-speaking peoples made this year a most successful one under the direction of Joan Taylor, president; assisted by Barbara Herrman, Sally Hall, and Joan Saurbier.

Cicero, Caesar on Stage

• WITH Virginia Mullen and Jean Edwards as our consuls, Betty Folwell, our aedile; Sun Van Houten quaestor; and Anne DeMallie, scriba, the Latin Club carried out the year's program.

At our annual Christmas tea, a skit, written by Jean Edwards and Ann DeMallie and starring Margie Guggenheim as the beloved Santa, entertained fellow Latin students and faculty. The origin of Santa was told in a choral recounting of the Christmas story.

At International Night, March 21, we represented the Roman Empire with booths on modern and ancient Italy. We also sponsored several European displays. First-year Latin students proudly displayed their projects—Roman dolls, notebooks, and Roman camps.

Assuming the role of Romans in the days of the Empire, we feasted at our annual Latin banquet without the use of forks. Several members reclined at dinner, but our guess is that they weren't too comfortable. We're satisfied with today's eating habits.

• TO ANYONE who attends Art Club meetings one Friday a month, they spell out "fun."

Shellcraft work and jewelry making left us with glue-covered and sticky fingers, but also with very satisfying results. In January, "Our Future With Art" was the subject of Stanley Whittinger from RIT. At the Scholastic Art Exhibit, Marguerite Dietrich posed as a model while we painted her in water color.

Our adviser Mrs. Hermia Gordon was assisted by President Emily O'Keefe, Vice-president Barb Newton, Secretary Carolyn Allen, and Treasurer Mary Russell.

• FOR OUR cultural and literary spirits, Miss Margaret Young conceived the idea of a Book Review Club which met with much popularity in its first year of life.

Mrs. Clarence Evaul, Mrs. William Hawley, the Reverend Theodore Trost, Amber Dean (Mrs. Norman Getzin) and several other excellent speakers reviewed for us books which later proved "best movers" in the library.

Pete Reed, our chairman, presided at meetings held monthly in the library.

Homeward and Heavenward

• MIDST piles of clothing for families in Germany, were to be found the fourteen members of the Home Economics Club, under the leadership of Joan Bartholomew, president; Vonita Bush, vice-president; Lorraine Timmerman, treasurer; and Carol Grossman, secretary. We gathered, packed and sent boxes of clothing to three families in Germany. One family sent their pictures with a letter of thanks.

The stuffed animals we made were really works of art. Although we were skeptical of their resemblance to anything except dinosaurs, they finally turned out to look like real animals.

With Miss Betty Balman, our director, we finished the year with a banquet at Lorenzo's.

• WITH TWELVE members, two dollars in the treasury, and a training plane, the Aeronautics Club began the 1949-50 season. Kenneth Hickman was chosen president; Buzz Harned, vice-president; and Harold "Fats" Wickman, treasurer.

Failure marked our first venture with the training plane flown by Jay Fleig. A crack-up and landing on rough ground gave souvenirs for all.

Movies of war combat and other aeronautical subjects were shown as part of our program. Big event of the year, however, was the model airplane contest in May. Entrants from both grade and high school competed for prizes of five dollars each.

Dramatic Action Here

• "NO BROKEN legs or necks," the Ski Club secretary has thankfully written into her log this year. As traditional clubs got under way this year, a new group, the Ski Club, stepped into the limelight with the counsel of Arthur Chapin.

After impatiently awaiting snow, we finally polished up our skis and ventured to Hickory Ridge and Powder Mill.

Later John Bergesen, Jim Crosier, Kent Klineman, Ronny Schafer, Ken Hershey, and Derry Tatlock as a team, traveled to Snow Valley, New York, to win sixth place in Section V competition. "Bergie" took honors for his alma mater by coming in second in the individual meet award and won a NYSPHSAA when he placed first in the down-hill race.

Bergie was our leader; Joan Beugless, secretary; and Kent, treasurer.

• Archers, about thirty of us in all, sport our bows and arrows during the fall and spring months to take aim at the large round targets.

Just before snow came in October, we participated in a girls' sports day. Bats, Owls, and Pumpkins—teams consisting of representatives from three other schools, took aim at the target. The Bats won the honor with Nancy Haines and Midge Purser on the team. Nancy is also manager of the girls' team. Barbara Olson and Joyce McCleary shot for Brighton on other teams and helped Diane Miller score.

Our group, a member of the National Camp Archery Association, competed for awards given by this association.

What's a Show

• MUSIC! MUSIC! MUSIC! That has been the theme of the band this year, when band members combined their talents in playing everything from Bach to fight songs. Besides the annual Spring Concert, the band, ably directed by James Cahill, presented an assembly program in March. Most of the football and basketball games were pepped up by the presence of the band.

Small ensembles and soloists provided a diversion in several Parent-Faculty meetings and at a Kiwanis Club luncheon. Appearing as soloists were Margaret Harris, Bill Leist, Roger Batty, and Dick Oakley, while Jim Glasow and John Gibaud joined the soloists in ensemble work.

Officers were Eric Zaanglein, president; Roger Batty, vice-president; Margaret Harris, secretary; Paul Lewis, treasurer; and Dick Yauch, manager.

• THE PHILHARMONIC had nothing on us as we tuned our "pipes" and "organs" for rehearsals every Tuesday and Thursday.

Alert under the flashing baton of our director Phillip Kaufman, we exercised lips and fingers in the execution of "Merry Widow," selections from "Faust," the "Mexican Overture," "Country Gardens," excerpts from the Sixth Symphony of Tschaikovsky, and "Fantasy" by Mozart. These selections are just a preview of the ones we will play when our facilities and rooms are increased.

A need for the augmentation of the string section will be partly satisfied in coming years by the grade school pupils, although the group will still not be complete.

The orchestra played for fall and early winter assemblies, alternating this privilege with the band which in turn played for spring assemblies.

Music and its devoted worshipers come to make up the heart of a school and its outstanding qualities. We feel that with the expansion of our building, our musical opportunities will swell also.

Choral Backgrounds

• WHAT WORK we've done! But how much more we will accomplish in our new surroundings!

Yes the Girls' Chorus has "gone to town"! We've let our pride spring forth with new music and gay songs under the fine leadership of Phillip Kaufman with his wife, Mrs. Olivia Kaufman at the piano.

The Thanksgiving assembly, Brockport Music Festival, and our spring concert have been events worthy of notice in our date book. So have such outstanding soloists as Betty Halaby, Pat DeVoll, Ann Feinbloom, Kitty Grant, Phyllis Rochow, and Nancy Guyer!

A smaller group of girls assembled to sing a vocal arrangement of the "Moonlight Sonata" to the beautiful strains of a harp, played by Jonatha Gibaud. Also featured in the April assembly was the girls' ensemble singing "Flight of the Bumblebee" accompanied by Katy Parsons and her flute.

Brockport heard us sing in our own group and also in the massed chorus, comprised of other area schools at its annual music festival.

With the combination of both our girls' choruses, approximately eighty-five voices sang at the spring concert held in May.

• ALTHOUGH our Mixed Chorus is small, we've thoroughly enjoyed ourselves during this past year, and have big plans and hopes for next year.

Under the excellent direction of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Kaufman, we added our bit to the Christmas pageant with solos by Pat DeVoll, Myron Biggar, and Tom Bowlin.

Several of our favorite songs which we have whole-heartedly sung have been "My Hero" from "The Chocolate Soldier," "Serenade" from "The Student Prince," and a special arrangement of "One World" by O'Hara.

At the Brockport Musical Festival, we sang our own special songs alone and then joined the other schools for a mass choral group.

• NEW THIS year was our Boy's Chorus, comprised of fourteen pioneers directed by Phillip Kaufman.

Sporting new "T" shirts signifying our musical inclinations, we made our debut in an assembly last fall. Throughout the year different members of the chorus have performed solos in various talent assemblies, community programs, and Parent-Faculty meetings. Participating in these have been Lester Fuller, Tom Bowlin, Bernie Levinson, and Dick Larson.

Undefeated Champs

• AFTER a long wait of sixteen years, the Brighton football team, under the tutelage of its fine coach, Etsy Reifsteck became the sole possessor of the Monroe County Championship. It was a season which none of the players and few students will ever forget.

Before the opening game, the coach utilized many crying towels over the seemingly green and inexperienced group, for only three players from the previous year's team were returning. After that game, it was a different story.

The Barons were a well rounded eleven, with tackle Fred Ullman and guard Johnny Short sparking line play, and Dave Trost, triple threat quarterback; speedy halfback Jim Durfee, and big fullback Johnny Van Dussen in the backfield.

These players all made the all-county first team, and every other member of the first string was either named to the second team or received honorable mention. Iron man Ken Hershey did a commendable job on both offense and defense, while the other end position was filled on the defense by Jack Dalbey and on the offense by "Spider" Parry.

Alternating in the other tackle position were Joe Kennedy, Ted Levinson, and Ralph Peters, while scrappy Pete O'Brien handled the guard post. Jim Marr and Chick Uhlen controlled the center on offense and defense, respectively. Jackie Price, sophomore halfback and Mal Judd and Jim Ryan, safety man were other steadies on the squad.

Brighton 14 — Irondequoit 6

• ON A cold September Saturday, the Barons upset a favored Irondequoit team to launch their campaign. Striking back after an Indian first-period touchdown, our team left the field at half time with a 7-6 lead. With the line playing consistent ball and the backfield playing equally well, Coach Reifsteck quickly became cognizant of latent possibilities.

Brighton 12 — East Rochester 6

• PLAYING under lights before a capacity crowd at Eyer Park, the Twelve Corners Eleven became a definite contender for the county title as it turned back its traditional rival. The line played its usual fine game, while Durfee and Van Dussen captured a TD apiece as in previous games. The three supposedly hardest games were over, but Reifsteck wouldn't let his team get over-confident.

Brighton 24 — Webster 0

• AGAIN on the Brighton field, the Barons stopped the defending champs cold as their line became impenetrable with yeoman work by John Short, Fred Ullman, and Ted Levinson. Co-captain Jim Durfee scored three touchdowns, one a splendid forty-yard pass from Dave Trost.

All in all, the Barons gave Webster really tough opposition.

Brighton 35 — Fairport 7

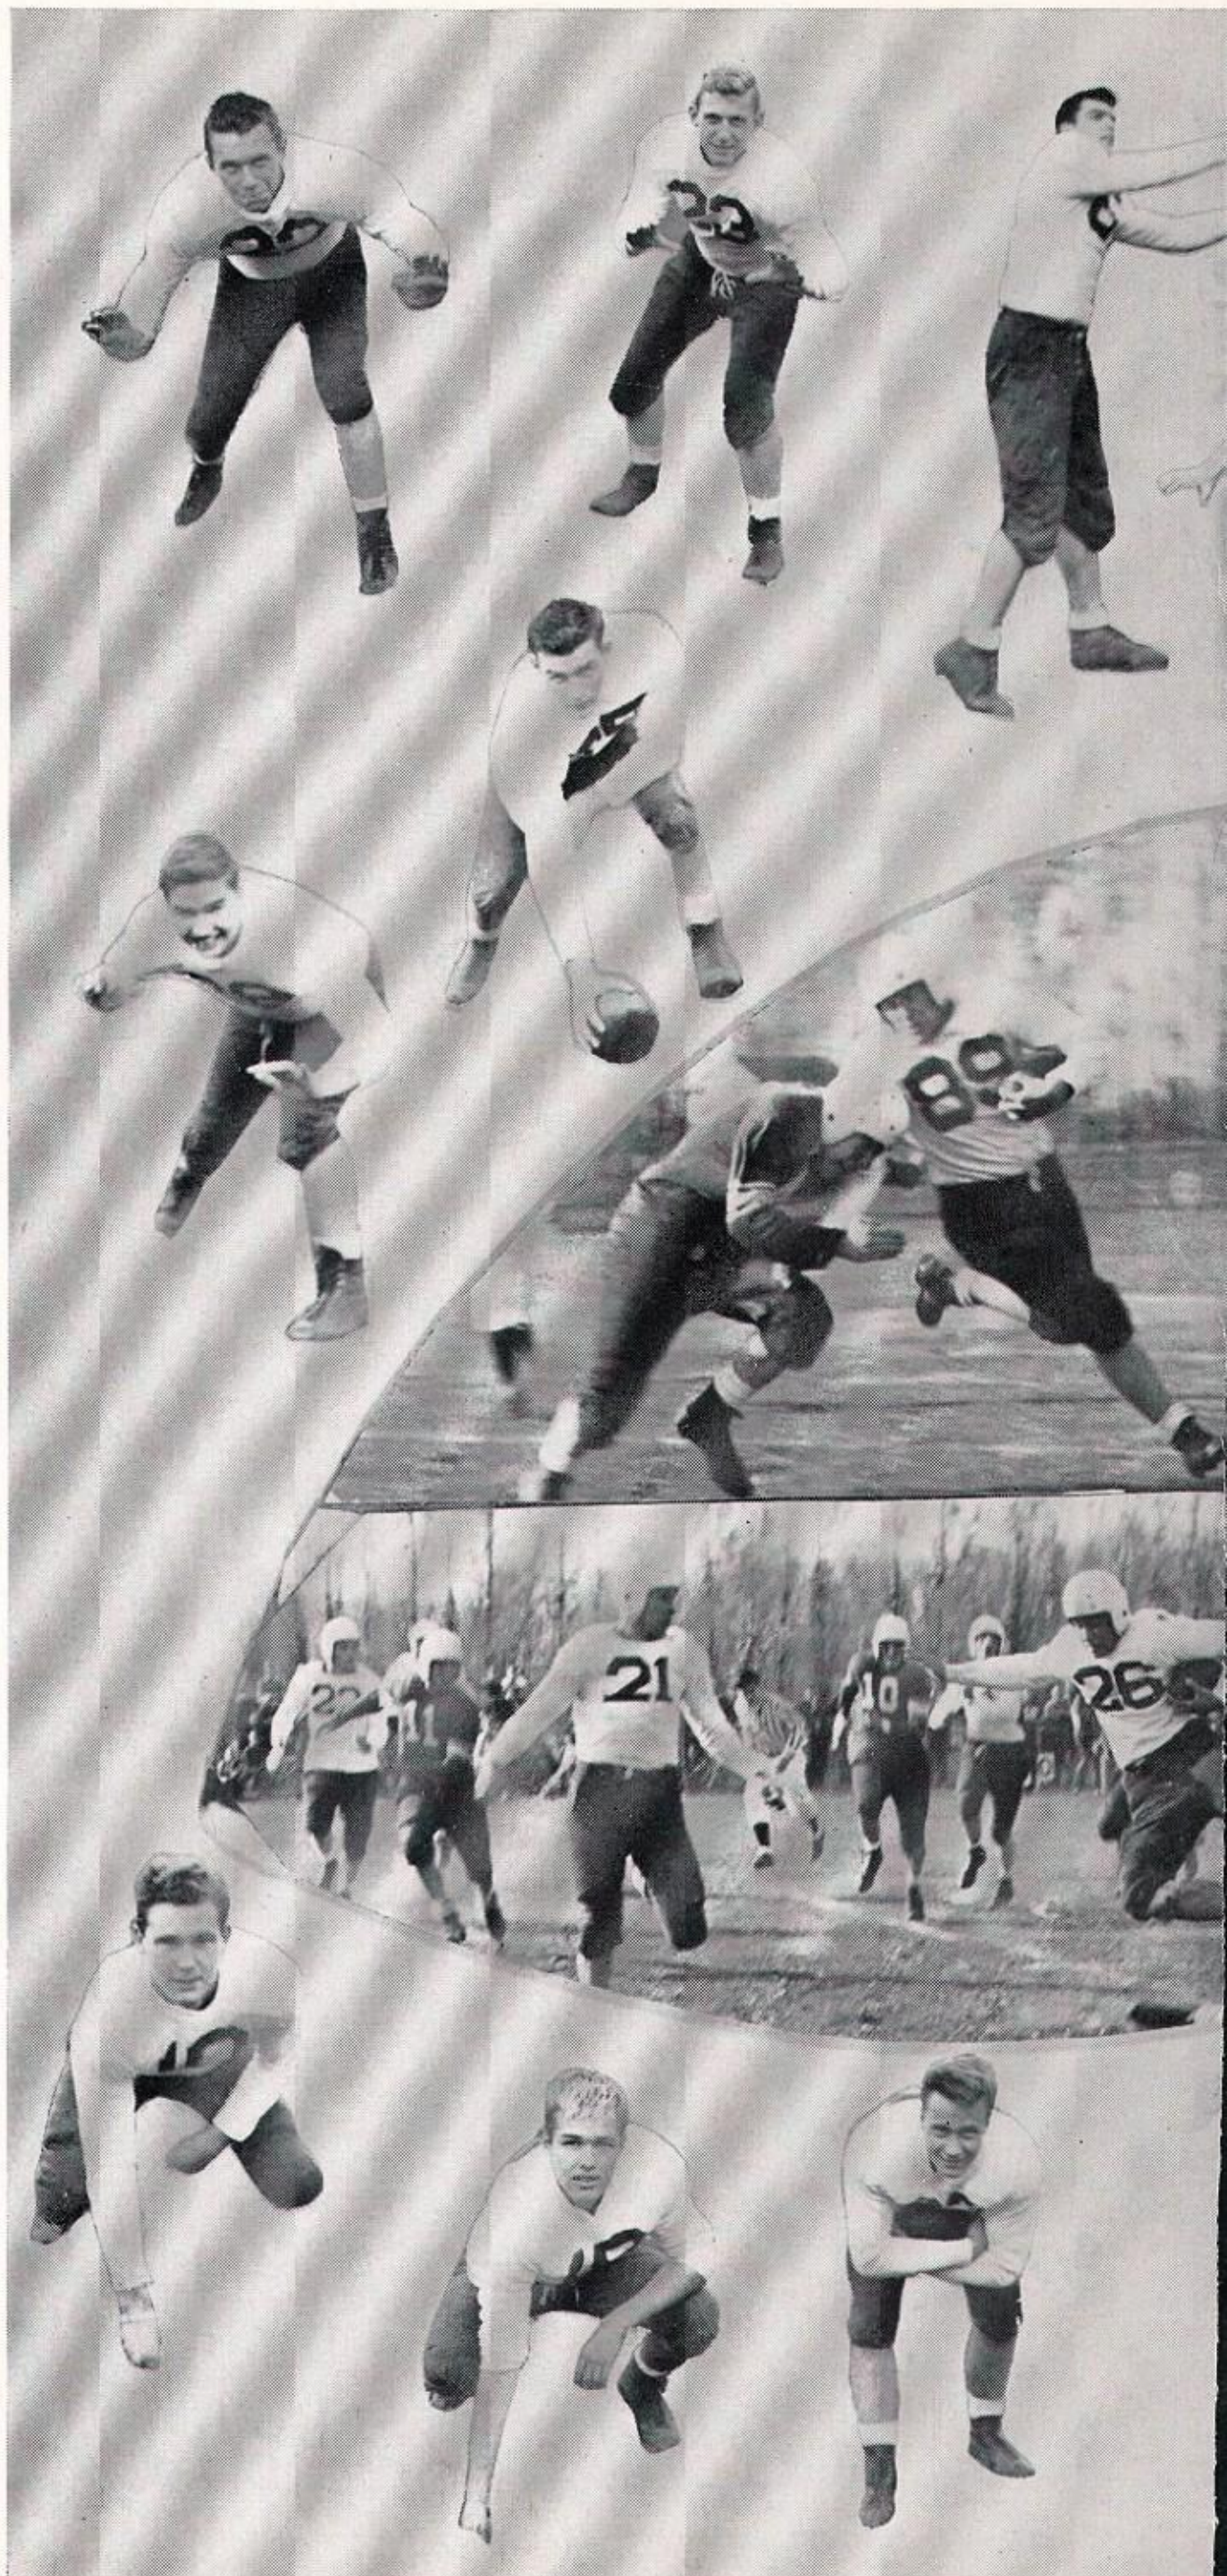

• THIS score shows no evidence of our difficulty with the scrappy Fairport eleven. The Barons needed this game to clinch the championship and complete an undefeated season. It was surely a team victory, typical of the brand of ball they played all year. The line was sparked by Pete O'Brien, Short, and Ullman, while Van Dussen's 3 touchdowns and Trost's passes led the backfield.

Brighton 20 — Newark 20

• BRIGHTON, playing its first game at home, again came from behind to tie a tough Newark team, unbeaten for two years. It was a moral victory, as was the Irondequoit game, in that it gave the Barons needed confidence.

Top: Price, Trost, Dalbey, Durfee.
Middle: Parry, Fisher, Galbraith.
Bottom: Peters, Levinson, Judd.

Brighton 33—Canandaigua 0

• WITH the pressure off, the first string made quick work of the Canandaiguans, giving substitutes their first chance in game competition. Before they came in, however, Ken "Ezra" Hershey and "Steamroller" Johnny VanDussen both had two touchdowns apiece.

Brighton 47—Brockport 13

• FOR THE second week in a row, the substitutes had a chance to play a greater share of the game. The scoring was distributed among many players, while several linemen also played stellar ball.

Our Super-Soccermen

• COACH Bob Hynes has done it again! For the fourth consecutive year his booters have snared the county toga, and for the third consecutive year, they have also annexed the Section V title.

But this year the team accomplished the sweep by winning all fourteen games, becoming the first Brighton pitch team ever to go completely undefeated. The squad, almost identical to the one which won the last ten games of last year, ended with a remarkable twenty-four game win streak.

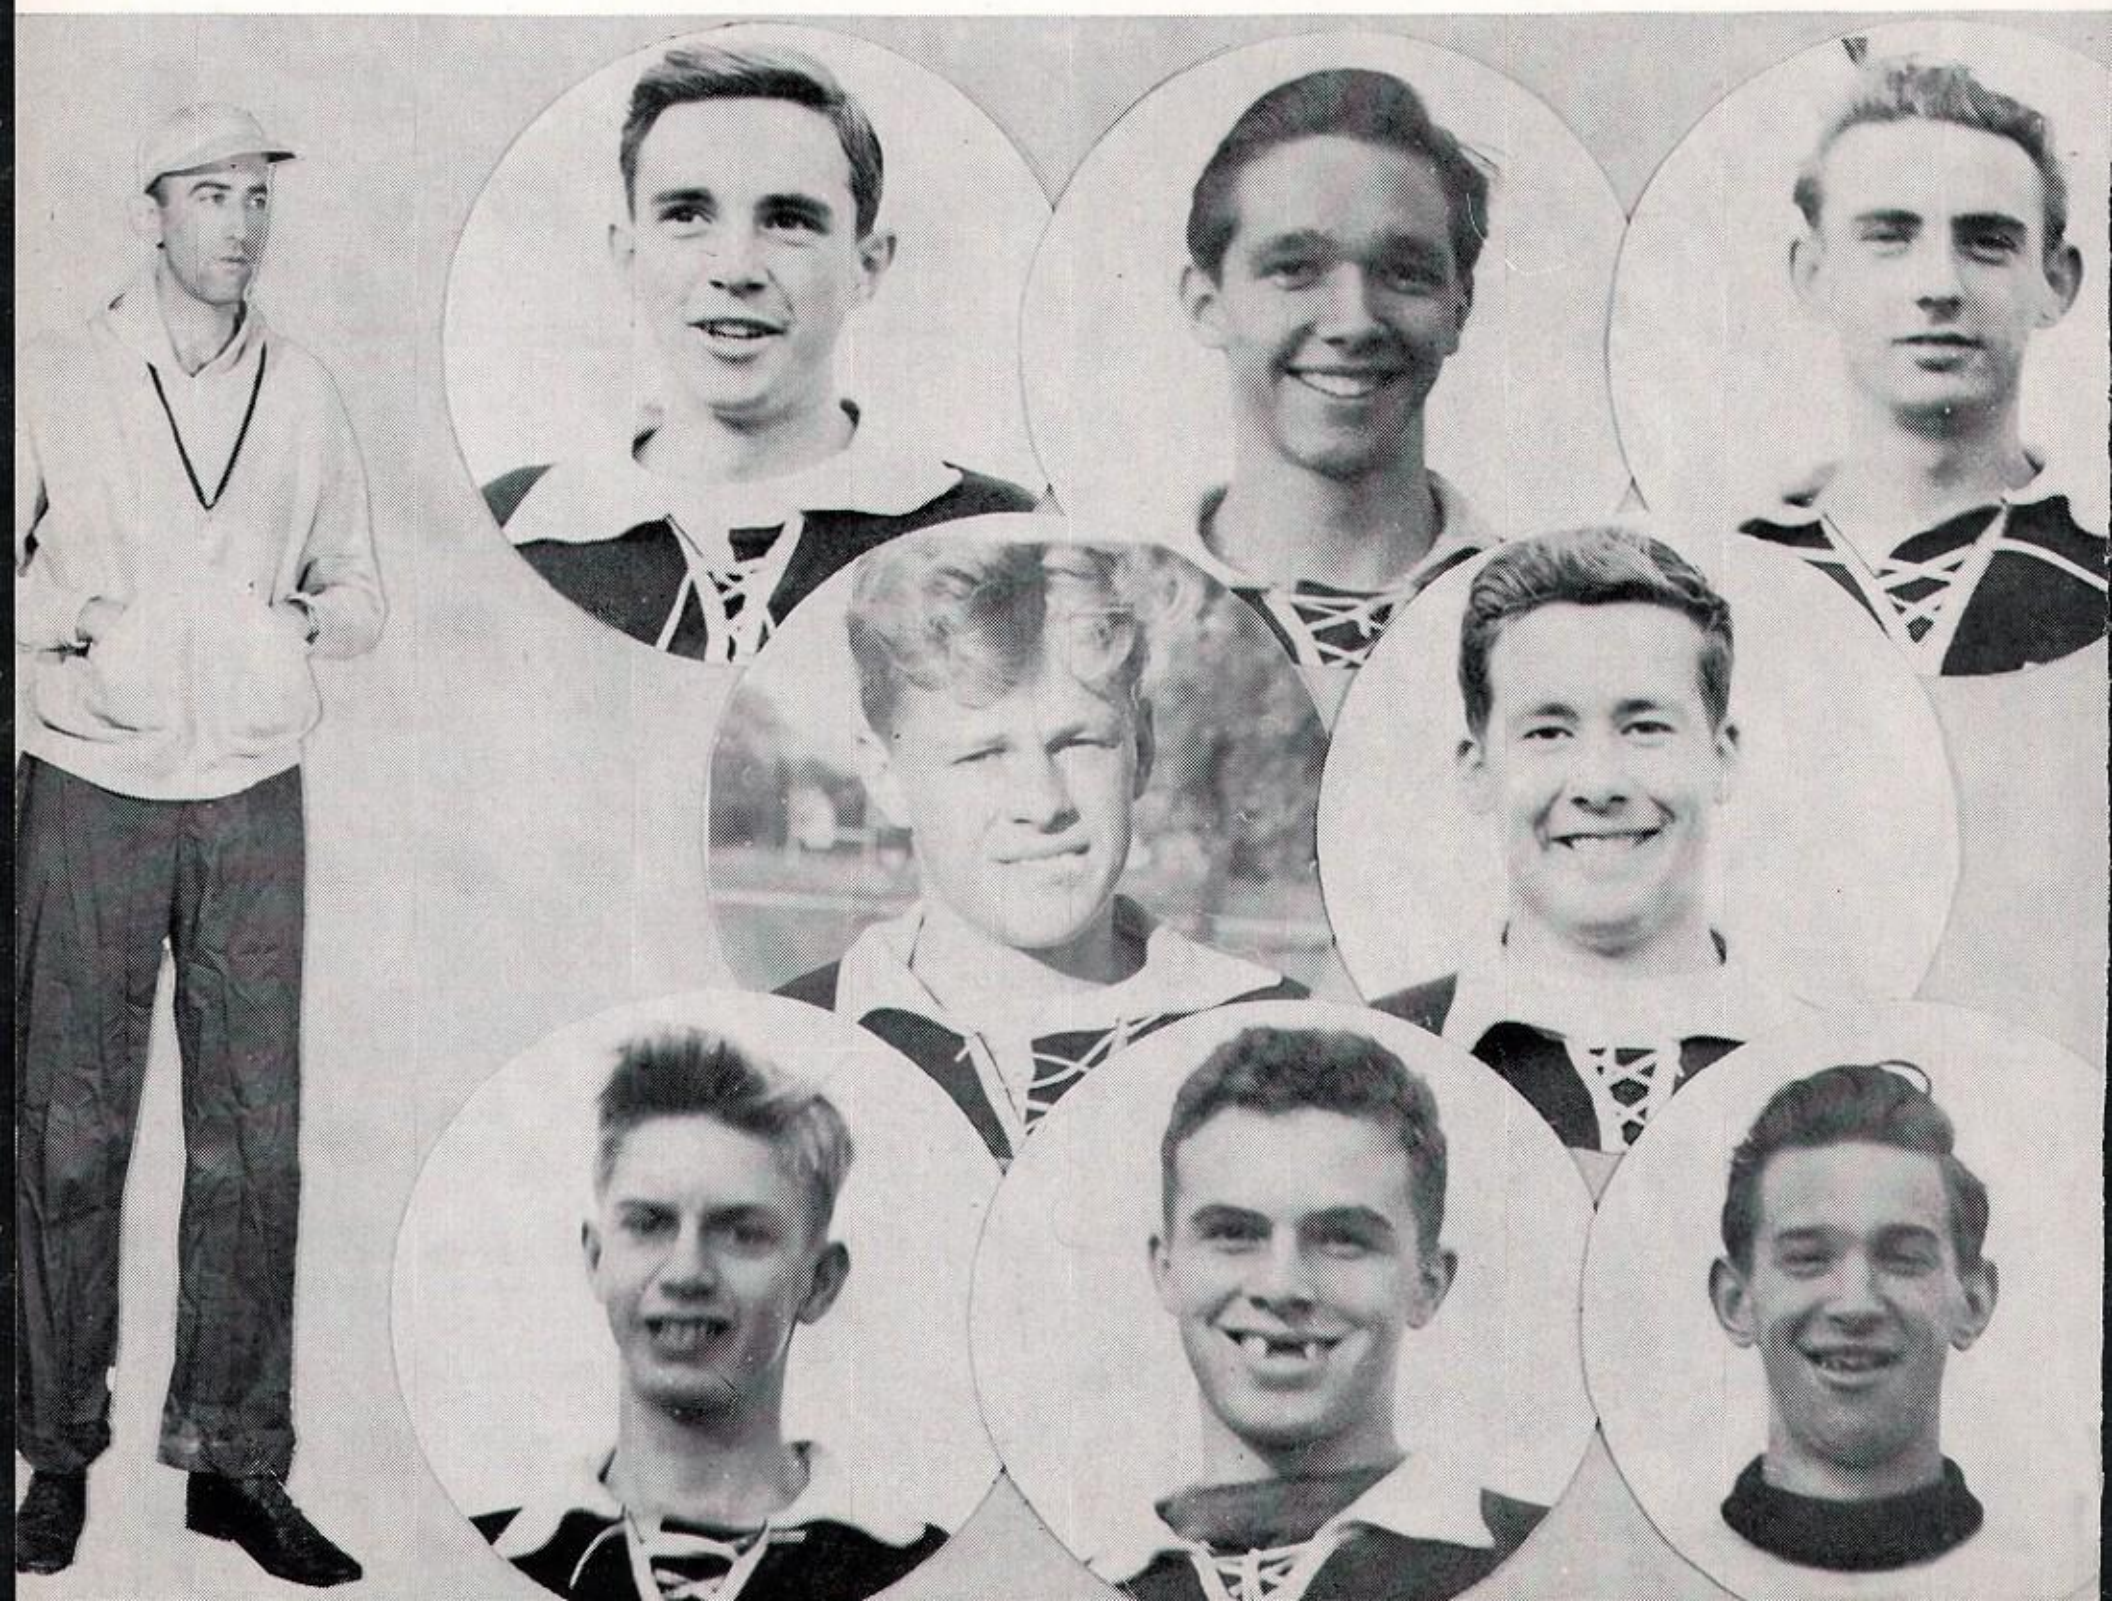

For several games Hynesmen had to come from behind to win, before they hit their undefeatable stride. The first Brockport game saw the locals behind 3-0 at half time but battling Brightonites, led by the scoring of Dengler, Laufer, and Baxter, roared ahead to win in the last half. At Spencerport, the Barons blew a 3-0 lead and only a last-minute goal saved the day.

Climax of the season was the sectional semi-final against Madison, when Dave Baxter scored the only goal of the hard-fought game to win for Brighton 2-0. This score not only put Brighton in the finals, but also broke the national high school scoring record of 104 points, formerly held by Beale High School of Baltimore, Maryland.

Co-captains Dinny Calkins and Dave Baxter paced the scoring with 64 points between them but almost everyone on the team including full-back Eric Zaenglein, contributed to the cause. Pitchmen ended their season with a 109-point total, defeating Wayland, 3-2.

Took Section V 'Oscar'

• IN NEARLY duplicating last year's record, Brighton hoopsters completed the season with a commendable twelve-won, six-lost record. Of six non-league games, they won four; in twelve league frays, they emerged with eight won. The Barons lost their four league games by a total of only nine points.

Led by Pistol Pete Paris who established several new records and terminated his career by being named to the All-County quintet, the Blue and White was the season's leading contender for the title.

The starting line-up was shifted by Coach Van Hooft but had as its nucleus co-captains Paris and Ryan along with Drotning. Ryan, dependable for fine board work, garnered 147 points. Sharpshooting John Drotning, in sixth place in county individual scoring totaled 178 points for a 9.9 points-per-game average.

Other starting berths were held at different times by Wally Weiner, Jim Durfee, Paul Henderson, Dave Trost, Bill Wiley and Phil Paris.

These and Pete O'Brien, Rog Lathan, Dinny Calkins, Phil Ungerer, and Ken Hershey made up the team which ended second in the county league race.

After losing their first two contests by considerable differences, they came into their own and completed the season with a respectable record. Other members who may be returning next year on one team or the other are Hugh and Bruce Laumeister, Larry Edwards, Harold Grunert, Hank Ward, and Lester Fuller.

To Each His Role

• ATIT: John Van Dussen, "A" league leading scorer; John Eddy, and flashy Brewie Williams of the pennant-winning No-Names, and the Rams' Ken Laufer and Bill Hagedorn comprise the All-Trapezoid Intra-mural Team.

Center Van Dussen was a prolific scorer for the Jets, ending with 79 points for seven games. Laufer was invaluable for the Rams, while Bill Hagedorn provided scoring punch. John and Brewie proved spark plugs of their team.

• No-Names: Emerging victorious in an unprecedented three-team playoff, No-Names captured "A" league championship laurels.

The No-Names defeated the Rams and Jets, pre-season favorites, in closely contested battles. Stand-outs were Eddy and Williams.

Geen and Treash, important play-makers and boardmen, with Dave Baxter and Bergesen were also invaluable. Team play was important in the No-Names defeat of last year's pennant-winning Jets and highly-touted Rams.

• Swimming: Brighton mermen finished a close third in the Section V championship. Chick Uhlen in the 200-yard free style became Brighton's only first place. Russ Chapman copped fifth in the 50-yard free style, while Bill Geen swam third in the 100-yard free style. Garret Stam and Kent Klineman captured third and fifth places, in the breast stroke. In the backstroke, Freshman Jerry Ross earned a third, as did Tom Bowlin in fancy diving. The medley relay team swam to a third.

Harriers Go a Long Way

• NOT to be outdone by the championship football and soccer teams, our cross country men won the Monroe County Cross Country Championship. Previous to this, they won the Oakfield Invitation Trophy and defeated a total of twenty-two teams from Section V and VI.

Captain Don Shupe paced the team to nearly every victory, capturing numerous firsts in many meets. At the Section V championship, Coach Hill's charges gained a third place in competition with nineteen teams, lagging behind Monroe and East. Jay Petrie just missed his shield when he finished in ninth place. Close behind him were Tom Beers, John Harper, and Bob Benewick, all of whom placed in the first twenty out of 141 entries.

Competing in city league play, our harriers were undefeated, emerging victorious in three meets.

Court and Links—Their Stage

• BRIGHTON's links stars under the able direction of Coach Ray Marling were again headed for their third undefeated season. Returning letterman Tony O'Brien, Junior Championship Runner-up Bob Burch, and Kent Klineman, along with newcomer Ken Hershey, provided necessary drive.

Playing in the Rochester high school circuit, they received little opposition from opponents and emerged city champs. In the Section V championship last fall, Bob and Tony won NYSPHSAA awards.

• BOASTING four lettermen, Coach John Cox rounded his netmen into shape early and predicted a good chance of coping the June sectionals.

Playing first singles seemed a toss-up between Len Treash and Roger Batty, both exhibiting fine form. Kent Klineman and Ralph Peters formed the doubles team, while Jack Dalbey rounded out the squad at third singles.

In the Monroe County league, the squad vanquished Webster, Irondequoit, Spencerport, and East Rochester.

On Diamond and Cinders

• OUT hitting the cinders early in April, track stars began aiming for their twelfth county track title.

Returning veterans Don Shupe, sectional half-miler; Jay Petrie, quarter-miler; Jim Durfee, sectional board jump champ; and John Van Dussen, shot-putter, topped last year's lettermen.

Track Coach Ellswood Hill and field mentor Etsy Reifsteck set to work on a large turnout of track hopefuls.

Other members returning from last year's squad were Bob Benewick, Bob Houck, Tom Ashmead, Jim Ryan, Malcolm Judd, Bill Kammerer, Tom Beers, Jack Murphy, John Harper, John Drotning, King Gillette, and Roger Lathan.

• WITH OLD stand-bys Dinny Calkins and Don Shupe, who were chosen to the 1949 All-County team, paving the way, 'Coach Bob Collins' diamond crew developed into one of the most formidable teams in the league.

The pitching staff was led by Dave Trost, Phil Ungerer, and Ralph Nelson, while infield choices were Calkins, Jay Killip, Hugh Lau-meister, Jack Schild, Durfee, Price and Shupe. Patrolling the outfield were Pete O'Brien, Phil Paris, Jim Marr, and Lee Edwards. Chick Uhlen caught behind the plate. Making use of the new diamond behind the high school, the Barons finished with a better-than-average record to complete the sports year as far as major sports are concerned.

Our Leaders

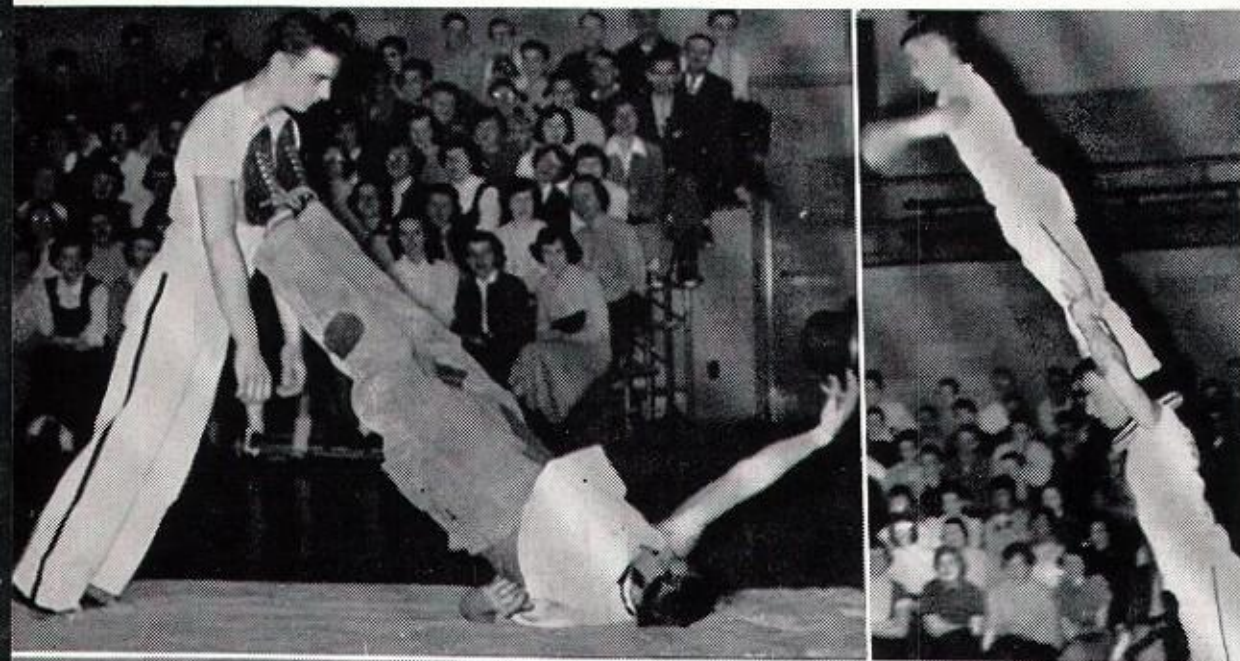

• FROM November until March, Brighton's gymnastic corps worked out in our gym, learning new tricks, and practicing old ones.

In March they put on a fine exhibition, demonstrating such skills as front and back flips, hand stands, kick-ups, chest dives.

On the parallel bars, Bob Hewitt, Tom Bowlin, Allen McHose, Bob Houck, and Jimmy Crosier expertly displayed top form as they were put through their paces.

• GIRLS in Junior and Senior Leaders' Clubs, are chosen for outstanding ability in sports, leadership, good sportsmanship, and scholastic standing.

Meeting Friday afternoons, girls are trained to referee, time, and score the soccer, basketball, volleyball, and baseball games. Girls also assist in their own gym classes and in eighth grade classes with testing and officiating at games.

This year the Leaders' Clubs helped the G.A.A. Council plan the soccer playday at BHS when girls from Pittsford, Irondequoit, Webster, Fairport, and East Rochester competed in a tournament.

Leaders also help organize the annual Girls' Sports Banquet at which time awards are presented.

Girls earn points for participating in the after-school program, for belonging to a leaders' club, for being cheerleader, and for attending playdays at various county schools.

The Senior Leaders' Club with the assistance of several members of the Junior Club presented an exhibition of marching drills and calisthenics at the March Parent-Faculty meeting.

Let's Give a Cheer

• "WE'RE GOING to raise that score . . ." was the constant theme of enthusiastic and competent cheerleaders, paving the road to a thrilling success for the 1949-50 season. Stalwarts of the field and court were inspired by vigorous cheers of the squad captained by Sue Nasset.

Under bright skies or on muddy fields, the squad kept spectators yelling for a win. To these hard-working members go the thanks of every rooter.

The junior squad, under Dadgie Steinkamp, kept an even pace with their senior leaders in yelling for victory. From every pep rally to the final game of the season, cheerleaders never halted.

Curtain Call for Ladies

• FROM THE Christmas Tea to the Girls' Sports Banquet, the G.A.A. had one lively year. Under the guidance of the council with Sally Hall president, more girls than ever turned out for intramural sports.

Sally was assisted on the council by Joan Hunt, vice-president; Ann DeMallie, secretary; Dorothy Young, treasurer; Sally Slayton, Sue Van Houten, Jean Edwards, Terri Feinglass, and Mary Warren. As is the custom, the council is made up of four seniors, three juniors and two sophomores chosen for athletic ability.

A trophy, instead of the usual monogram, will be awarded to any girl attaining 300 points for participation in girls' sports. The letter is given for 125 points; the numeral for 200, and the county award for 400 points.

Keeping up with the boys, girls banqueted in the late spring in the school cafeteria. Awards were made at this time, and entertainment (not the Oscar-winning variety) followed in the gym.

The Christmas tea, one of the high points of the year, brought forth a jolly old Santa (Ann Drotning) with gifts for the faculty.

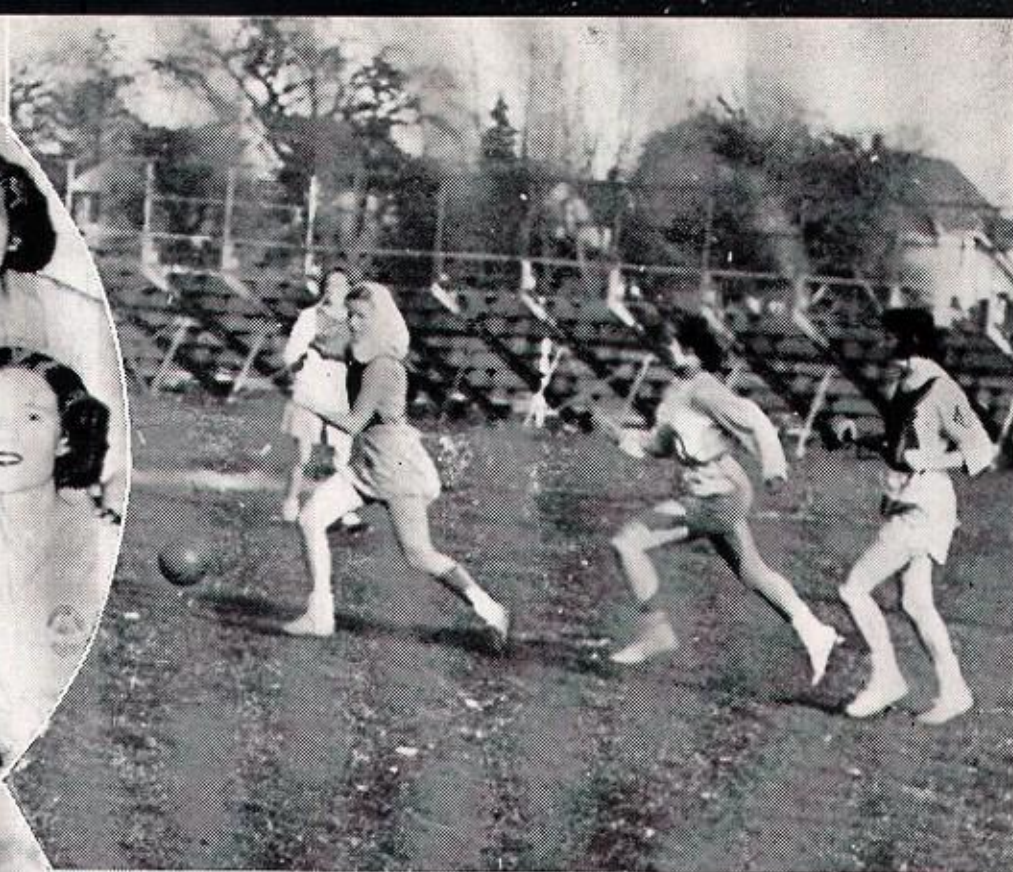

Our appetites were appeased with goodies sold by girls on the council at all games, and as we watched our team make a touchdown or a basket, we munched contentedly.

Yes, this was a good year for the Girls' Athletic Association, and we're proud we did our bit in "expanding our stage."

Soccer Sisters' Realm

• GREATLY helped by the addition of a new athletic field for boys, Mrs. Blair and the GAA were able to put into effect a very successful four-day-a-week program on the girls' soccer fields.

Joan Hunt's senior team entered inter-class play with Joan Gosnell's juniors, Mary Van Dusen's sophs, and Phyllis Rochow's frosh.

When it was thought that sophs might beat seniors out of the race, seniors finally arose victorious and stood to face their ever-constant foes, the juniors. Since the score of that game remained tied even after over-time play, the teams had to divide points.

In a flurry of ballots, honor teams were chosen. If history can repeat itself, so can soccer play-offs. Juniors and seniors again played to a tie in an over-time game and again had to split the points.

Ladies of the Court

• BASKETBALL, a favorite sport among girls, had a very successful season with more than seventy-eight per cent of all high school girls ranging from eighth graders through twelfth graders, participating.

Twenty-six teams consisted of 281 girls. Eighty-five games were scheduled and played in the intra-class, inter-class and honor teams tournaments.

Juniors, captained by Margaret Harris, came out on top in the inter-class tournament. After an exciting tie with the Senior Honor Team captained by Vickie Killip, Doris Hungerford's junior honor team copped the championship title in a nerve-wracking over-time period.

Eighth graders also held an intra-class tournament with Dorothy Block's team leading in first place. The season came to a close with the county basketball tournament at East Rochester.

Applause Spells Success

• THE 1949-50 soccer race was a fight to the finish with Junior and Senior Honor Teams finishing in a tie for first place.

As the CROSSROADS goes to press, girls are in the midst of a lively volleyball tournament, with the baseball season still to come.

March 20, Judy Buckert, who won the hearts of a Parent-Faculty audience when Senior Leaders and several Junior Leaders showed marching drills and performed Danish calisthenics. Judy, with her "Won't somebody please let me in?" tried to interrupt the serious precision work of the well trained leaders, but without avail.

Enthusiasm and spirit ran high in all girls' sports this year with over 200 girls turning out for after-school activities.
